

NEWS FROM THE PRAYER PATH

Leanna Lindsey Hollis M.D. Director of Intercessory Prayer and Outreach

Digital Outreach

More than 300 blog posts written this year. Nearly 150K views this year. The blog reach has doubled again, and continues to reach literally around the world.

Online Bible Study

The 12-week Hosea study has had more than 4,000 views and the James study (done as a single download) had more than 400 views. James has now been converted to a print format and will soon be available for purchase.

Student Outreach

Along with Derwood Tutor and Richard Price, we are sponsoring the Fellowship of Christian Students group at Fillmore school again this year. Our first month's groups were very responsive and all gave requests for which we are praying. Many of those young men and women long to make a change and have lives that make a difference, so please join us in interceding on their behalf.

One bag at a time...

Thank you for your help this past year! None of what God has done would've been possible without your partnership.

Generous friends across northeast Mississippi donated a mountain of supplies and, on June 29, 2017, volunteers assembled at GO Home Office to pack personal care packs for those in need. More than 500 bags of shampoo, soap, snacks, and other personal care items were assembled. I thought they were for the homeless, but I had no idea quite how that would work out. The first 25 were used for a "forgotten items" box for Eight Days of Hope (8DOH) volunteers. 200 went to Beautiful Feet ministries with a group from Calvary Baptist Church in Tupelo, Ms. The remaining bags went to Texas with a group from New Albany, Ms., who joined with 8DOH after Hurricane Harvey for rapid response disaster relief.

Coming Events:

When outreach moves home...

In 1989, I made a most unusual real estate transaction. In addition to purchasing my property, I agreed to allow Sam, the man who'd worked there since 1960, to continue to live on the land as long as he lived. We were both younger then, and neither Sam nor I knew what that would look like in 2017.

As it turns out, Sam, now widowed, is too frail to live alone and is on Hospice. I've cared for him since the death of his wife two years ago but, on July 25, 2017, we moved him to my home for his remaining days. With the combination of good food, too many desserts, lots of visits from the body of Christ, and lots of love, he's thrived. His body is still weak, but his spirit is strong.

I wasn't sure it would be possible to continue to serve from home, but God has graciously allowed me to minister to Sam, minister to Global missionaries from my home, and minister outside my home, as well. It's the best of all worlds, and I'm in awe of how God has managed this new challenge.

None of this would be possible without all the help the body of Christ has given. Thank you for your servant hearts, your love, and your unfailing support. God bless you all!
